AGAINST FUTURE MAINTENANCE OF HEAVY ARMAMENTS
ROME, December 13.—Senator Morazzini yesterday presented to the Senate a resolution asking the government to use its influence against future maintenance of heavy armaments by the nations of Europe. CONGRESS LEADERS PLAN TO AVOID EXTRA SESSION
WASHINGTON, December 13.—Congress will enter the second week of its winter session determined to complete its tasks by March 4, so that no extra session will be necessary next summer.

Legislative leaders of both houses agree with President Wilson that the country should have a rest from national legislation. Right of way will be given appropriation bills with conservation measures, the Philippine army and the government's purchase bill following.

While no special investigation of military preparedness is in prospect, much attention will centre about investigations before regular House committees. The Naval Committee will resume consideration of the appropriation bill to-morrow, with Secretary Daniels again on the stand.

The Immigration bill, with its literary test for aliens, will again be under debate in the Senate, while that body will consider the appropriation bills to come from the House, its supporters insist that it will be passed, although it was not included in the President's outline of legislation.

Conservation measures—the water power site and the mineral leasing bills—probably will be reported from the Senate Committee on Public Lands early in January. Hearings begin to-morrow before the Senate Philippine Committee on the House bill for the larger measures of self-government to the Philippines. Some part of each day in the Senate also will be given over to executive consideration of the safety-at-sea treaty.

Ship purchase bills still are in committee in both houses.

GERMAN SPIES COST STEEL HEAD MILLIONS
Charles M. Schwab Shadowed on Trip to England, Where He Got Huge Order.
SAILED UNDER ASSUMED NAME Before He Returned to America, State Department Had Full Knowledge of Trip, and Contract Is Canceled Following Protest by Kaiser.
NEW YORK, December 12.—The New York Tribune prints the following story:

"The German spies in New York and Washington in and out of the diplomatic service are chuckling over a story said to involve Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, and the German Secret Service. According to the story, when Mr. Schwab recently returned to this country from a mysterious flying visit to England with a certified check for $6,000,000 tucked snugly away in his pocket he little dreamed that the efficiency of the German Secret Service organization would be the cause of the cancellation of the largest order ever placed with him. He had been obtained for his concern and that he would have to return to the German government the 10 per cent advance of $6,000,000 which had clinched the order.

"To conceal the purpose and result of his flying trip to England on the Olympic a few weeks ago Mr. Schwab was said to have assumed an assumed name, was hurried ashore at Southampton before the Olympic landed the crew of the British Dreadnought Audacious there, hastened to London on a special train, directed a few days later to America with the statement that he had been in England for his health.

"Before the Mauretania, aboard which the king returned to America, reached Sandy Hook the State Department had full knowledge of the real purpose of Schwab's trip. When a few days later it was understood, Secretary of State Bryan had to order the cancellation of the order, and the execution of Great Britain's contract would constitute a violation of the neutrality proclamation. President Wilson, Mr. Schwab got the surprise of his life. He was certain that neither he nor the British government had revealed the matter.

"He had been better acquainted with the thorough, methodical, unobtrusive work of the German Secret Service, he might have found a reason for the mysterious leak of his innermost secret. How this coup of the German Secret Service was accomplished is a matter of conjecture.

"The German Secret Service has a large staff of active agents in need of constant replenishment. It is well known that by the more important work is done by the most important agents, who operate in the midst of the most important work. The fact that English cruisers have been supplied with coal and provisions by American ships, both on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts, is a clear indication of the fact that the German Secret Service has been able to keep itself supplied with information and funds for its operations.
